

Goodbye Wilna

21.12.77 - 26.7.14

Wilna Wilkinson died in a car accident on 29 July this year. She was involved with Sancob and the rehabilitation of penguins and marine birds at the Cape St Francis lighthouse.

In a short time she endeared herself to all her knew her in the St Francis area. A moving farewell to Wilna was held in Cape St Francis on 8 August at the Cape St Francis lighthouse and at Joe Fish restaurant. The farewell was really a celebration of her life.

Two gannets were released at the lighthouse rocks from where her ashes were scattered in the sea by her father John. John paid tribute to all the fine and fun things she had done in her 36 years. Sancob staff also praised her and she was awarded a posthumous service award for all the fine work she has done as an advocate of the marine environment.

Part of the large crowd during the release of two gannets in honour of Wilna - at the CSF lighthouse that is currently getting a new facelift.

Below: Two gannets released back into the wild after rehabilitation at the Sancob's bird hotel.

Wilna's father and mother were in the background when Rickie from Cape St Francis Resort put out a delicious spread of eats for guests.
