

Puffadder removed from Cape St Francis site

A puffadder at a construction site in Cape St Francis caused a scare among workers there and a snake handler to remove it was then sought.

The site manager contacted St Francis Chronicle whose editor posted on the paper's FB wall an appeal for help to remove the dangerous reptile. Several names were put forward who could collect the snake and release it elsewhere – even the names of some who are terrified of snakes were put forward as suggestions by some jokers!

A handler was found and as can be seen from the photo, he removed the puffie with ease.

End of story. But not quite... there is a moral...

Snake handlers do not work as such for a living. This is their hobby as it were and they do a special favour for those in distress at finding one of these serpents in their space and who need them removed. They therefore welcome a donation to cover their petrol costs at least. Sadly many owners, having been relieved of a threat on their lives don't offer any remuneration.

Stop Press! No electricity in Kouga on 17 August

There will be no electricity in Kouga Municipal area on Sunday, 17 August from 5 am - 10 pm. The interruption is necessary for Eskom to install overhead supply lines for wind-farm developments in the area. The whole of Kouga will be affected, except for Thornhill, which receives electricity from Nelson Mandela Metro. Residents should treat all electrical points as live during this time. If there's bad weather the power outage will be postponed to 24 August.

Champagne Events & Function Venue

Nestled in the heart of the Chelsea Conservancy is a place where perfection isn't negotiable...

Champagne Events and Function Venue is Port Elizabeth's newest setting to celebrate almost anything there is to celebrate!

Affiliated to the company that brought you world class events such as the launch of St Francis Links and the ground-breaking and inauguration ceremonies for the Jeffreys Bay Wind Farm, Champagne Events is now home to a premium new function venue, boasting the same world class service, quality and style, at absolute value for money.

If you're getting married there are three options to choose from for your intimate ceremony - ranging from our borna and chapel to our loved garden gazebo. Or you can opt to say your vows in the haven of our secret garden.

The lush gardens, dating back to a time when the property was still a top nursery in the area, are perfect for photographs and post ceremony canapés under the majestic trees before the exquisite reception venue for your official celebration.

For the corporate market, we offer specially designed conference and event packages for all commercial functions. We welcome private events in our informal garden area and our more formal celebration area.

With more than 11 years' event planning under our belts, successfully managing anything from small to large scale events and weddings all over the country, we know that each event must have a touch of charm of its own. For this reason we have designed our catering menus to suit a variety of taste buds. Our in-house chef has put together a range of options suitable to all palates, but most importantly, to all pockets.

Being the most prestigious and premium event venue in the Eastern Cape, when you book with us, you will enjoy true Champagne hospitality from our bubbly welcome to our little paradise on arrival, to a warm and well-queened farewell on departure.

Champagne equals 'Celebration' and that is exactly what you will encounter at our new and exciting event venue. In the words of the great David Copperfield himself... 'the real secret of magic lies in the performance'... our every intention is to ensure that your experience here at Champagne Events & Function Venue is just that... magical!
