Editorial Column

recent winter storms. Fortunately there are still some lovely spots such as the Cove and the Kromme River at low tide and the Cape St Francis beach for those who delight in those long walks along the water's edge.

We hope you enjoy this edition which provides a guide on not only what to do and where to go but also some main rules and regulations of what is allowed or not - particularly on the Kromme River and the canals

We also take this opportunity to wish you all a blessed Christmas and a most happy and prosperous 2015..Watch out for our New Year edition that goes to print at the beginning of 2015!

On a personal note and since it is the season of thanks giving, I wish to thank all the advertisers who supported St Francis Chronicle over the past 13 years and over this season, plus I would like to thank all those readers who 'tipped' me off with news, who have encouraged me and sent in the most marvellous photos. Plus those friends and colleagues who have always been around when needed, my heartfelt thanks.

To all of you: wishing you peace, joy and blessings.

A big warm welcome to all the visitors and holiday home owners who are joining us locals for a fantastic summer of fun. We hope you will all have a wonderful time and that the weather will play ball. This year, more than before, there is a far wider variety of things to offer everyone so that there will always be something to do.

The town will actually be alive with a music festival with so many music gigs organised - from Indie folk to golden oldies to hard rock - there's sure to be something to suit most people's tastes..

The only problem we have this year end is the limited sand on the beaches to walk on. The beaches have been so badly damaged from
