

Billy's Beach set to rock St Francis again

The 20-40 jet set and older will once again be partying barefoot on the white sand at Billy's Beach this year end and into the New Year.

One of St Francis' hottest spots round a fresh water dam, Billy's Beach took off like a rocket on day 1 three years ago and over the last two festive seasons was one of the most popular places to be in the Eastern Cape and South Africa.

Organisers say Billy's Beach is back for the end of the 2015, start of 2016 festive season events, and will be bringing a Summer Paradise to revellers in St Francis.

Billy's Beach, true to form, will throw a perfect beach bar party, promoting good vibes, great music and fun times at one of St Francis Bay's most popular venues, Kate Ackerman says.

Billy's will be open on the 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 31st December and on 2nd January. Party-goers can expect to be wowed by SA's top DJ's bringing the greatest Deep House and Techno beats, backed by a line-up of awesome local band talent. Last year opening night with the music of Gold Fish drew huge crowds and was a great success and most enjoyable event.

Our roving photo journalist reported on the event: "Wonderful crowd at Billy's Beach opening night this evening - dancing and swaying their arms and bodies in unison to the music of Gold Fish. The sound effects and vibrant colours changing from gold to red, to pink, green, aquamarine and purple was simply beautiful. Happy, smiling faces everywhere and a most wonderful evening on a beautiful, warm night."

This event is widely tipped to once again entice youngsters from all over South Africa. Parents book accommodation outlets in St Francis especially for their teens - knowing that they can party in a safe place.

And the yuppies and jet set have already booked houses over season for R7000 a day and upwards just so they can attend Billy's Beach.

Ackerman says this year end there will be fully stocked bars, many beach activities and crowds of beautiful people partying barefoot on the beach round the dam.

Billy's Beach 2015 also has an extra party day planned... watch this space!
