

Bard'au is the name of the new delightful beauty salon in St Francis Bay that offers something 'verree' different and oh, so French, 'Magnifique - Mais oui!'

The charming and vivacious owner, Anne d'Aussy, hails from a Belgian seaside town and was living and working in Johannesburg with her husband. But the couple became disillusioned with the rat race and concrete jungle so relocated six months ago to St Francis Bay where they previously spent many lovely holidays. They bought a house here and Anne, who had her own medical aesthetics practice at Fourways, offering treatments such as anti ageing, slimming treatments, lipolysis skin analysis and more, decided to put some of these services on the menu at her newly opened nail bar and beach boutique.

Bright and airy, the small boutique at Philippa Place is neat and meticulous filled with the most lovely gifts - verree unique with items unavailable elsewhere in this area. The shop is adjacent to the new Erica's Hair Salon that has also just relocated here.

The name of Anne's shop, Bard'au, is formed from the name of world renown French actress, Brigitte Bardot, and a part of Anne's surname - the letters 'dau' from d'Aussy.

Bard'au is a stylish environment that combines beauty & wellness. There is a beach clothing boutique, a nail bar and pedicure chairs with giant wicker balls for placing one's feet on, a great range of nail products and a fast drying process.

The salon offers manis & pedis, waxing, skin analysis, facials, peels, slimming treatments. On the retail side the salon offers a select range of French bikinis with matching micro beach shorts, sun hats, scarfs, bags, shoes, beauty products, gifts, jewellery & accessories, plus sand-proof beach bags.

The atmosphere is fashionable and relaxing where one can have luxurious, pampering treatments at affordable prices by highly skilled & fully qualified therapists. Anne brought her two assistants down from Johannesburg and the pair are renting a flat at Port St Francis and loving it here.

Should you wish to receive an invite for the opening event contact Bard'au on 060 665 1907 or email bardau@icloud.com. Brigitte Bardot is a French former actress, singer and fashion model, who later became an animal rights activist with a special interest in penguins (and in Cape St Francis there is the penguin rehabilitation centre) She was one of the best known fashionistas, models & a legendary beauty of the 1950s and 1960s.

A small beach town in France, 'St Tropez', was the playground of artists until Brigitte Bardot put it on the map by showing up to film 'And God Created Women'.
