

Convert your Thatch Roof to Shingles for Peace Of Mind

In St Francis Bay, elements such as fire, lightening, wind and rain have created much concern recently, particularly amongst homeowners with thatch roofs.

The Owens Corning Shingle Roofing System supplied by Global Innovative Building Systems (PTY) LTD provides a safe, aesthetically pleasing and low maintenance alternative with many added long term benefits.

W&D Roofing, a division of Wattle & Daub Carpentry & Joinery (pty) Ltd, have been certified to install the Shingle Roofing System, according to the manufacturers specifications, by a qualified Roofing Technician (employed by Global) and are the only company to have successfully completed thatch to shingle roof conversions in St Francis Bay, Port Elizabeth and surrounding areas.

Due to the flexible and versatile composition of the Shingle, installers are able to cover a wide range of roof geometries including curved pitches and rounded domes. The low-profile, interlocking design creates a sealed envelope with excellent wind resistance, and Owens Corning shingles have been rigorously tested for fire safety.

With much experience, W & D roofing have developed a system to convert thatch roofs while maintaining the original pole framework and roof architecture. This reduces the cost of conversions dramatically as new trusses are not required.

All the roofs are designed to comply to SABS and SANS Building Regulations which include insulation, leaving you with a home that is comfortable throughout the year.

Working together, W & D Roofing and Global Innovative Building Systems strive to maintain a vision of professionalism. We have created a reputation for providing excellent service and install roofs that stand by the statement: "THE VIEW FROM THE ROAD JUST GOT BETTER"
