This special event is aimed at empowering Kouga youth by the presence of exhibitors in the fields of careers, skills development, further education and entrepreneurial opportunities.

"The event is primarily targeting schooling and out of school youth, between the ages 13-35 from the Kouga area. Access will be limited to having received entrance wristbands from their schools or other formal youth empowerment structures," said Trevor Arosi KWF Community Liaison Officer.

Part of the programme will include different and exciting activities, such as Kouga Idols, Battle of the DJs, an Art competition: My Coastal Town, and 'Why I should be Mayor of Kouga' - a speech competition. These events will see winners take home an educational bursary and a R2000 cash prize. See p13

Sensational College Musical presented great entertainment

Statue in the Park – a musical through the ages was this year's St Francis College fantastic theatrical production.

The performance at the NG Church in Humansdorp last month featured song and dance routines with a selection of popular tunes by the Beatles, Spice Girls, Michael Jackson, Vanilla Ice and more. There was even a special guest appearance by the amazing John Travolta (headmaster Franz Bause)

The cast included Roark la Combré in the key role as The Statue who had his costume painted onto him by Burcu Cunnane, an art teacher. Other key roles were Noah Peens as The Mayor, Phoebe Costanza and Jamie Lindsay as Jenny and Chris, and Molly Dalton and Makai Kabot as the Boy and Girl. Thanks were expressed to all who made this production so successful possible.
